

Bids For Westery Town Building

Fifteen Opened by Town and State Commissioners—Decision Reached—Fifth Company's Fair Closes With Drill For Cross Medal—Superior Court Session May be Held in Westery.

Charles Arnold of Putnam, who five years ago "cleared it" with Deacon Elisha Wilcox of Westery, and Rev. Benjamin A. Greene, D.D. of Chicago, and who, after the day's work was done, in the White Rock mill store, held conference as to prospective future in the rear of the store, and were then known as the Shoe-box club, calls attention to an omission in The Bulletin's recent reference to Westery's representatives in Brown university, namely the "Greene boys," sons of the late Deacon Alvin Greene, a former superintendent of the White Rock mill, who subsequently purchased and resided on what was known as the Granite farm in Tower street. Four of his five sons were students at Brown university, three were graduated, and all should have been credited to Westery. Besides these sons, three grandsons have been graduated from Brown and a fourth is a member of the freshman class.

Benjamin A. Greene was graduated in 1872. He is a Baptist minister, a doctor of divinity, and a lecturer in the divinity course at the Chicago university.

Stephen A. Greene, deceased, was graduated in 1873. He was a mill engineer, and was known all over the country as prominent in educational, religious and business affairs.

Albert R. Greene, deceased, was graduated in 1882. He was a prominent Baptist minister.

Ray W. Greene was graduated in 1883, and is a practicing physician in Worcester, Mass.

Alvin Greene, the fifth son, was the only son that did not enter Brown university.

A number of appointments within the gift of the governor or the general assembly, or both, will expire January 21, and already the politicians are planning for some of the places. The term of office of Frank Hill of Hopkinton on the state board of education and Charles W. Willard of Westery as a commissioner of inland fisheries, expire, and they will undoubtedly be reappointed.

The terms of Judge Oliver H. Williams and Clerk Clarence E. Roche of the Third district court, of C. Clarence Maxson on the state returning board, of Dr. Thomas E. Robertson on the state board of veterinarians, and of Dr. J. Howard Morgan, as medical examiner, all of Westery, do not expire the ensuing year.

The fair of the Fifth company, coast artillery corps, closed Monday evening. One of the features was the prize drill for the John M. Cross medal for the best drilled soldier in the manual of arms. There were a majority of the company in direct competition and the drill demonstrated the general efficiency of the company. The judges were Major Arthur N. Nash, selected by the company; Capt. Walter S. Sime, selected by the officers of the company, and First Lieutenant Glassburn, coast artillery corps, U. S. A., selected by Major Nash and Capt. Sime. The prize was awarded Private George Smith.

The John M. Cross gold medal is competed for annually and formal presentation is made of the medal at the time of contest, which carries with it the title of best drilled man in the company. It was formerly the custom to allow the winner to have actual possession of the medal for one year as it is a perpetual prize. Of late years there has been a change in this method. While the original badge is used in the presentation, it is retained in possession of the company, and a gold badge, suitably inscribed, is given the winner and becomes his personal property.

John M. Cross was a native of Westery, an uncle of Rev. Edward Babcock and son-in-law of Cornelius Vanderbilt. After the death of his wife he returned to Westery and resided here until 1886, when he moved to Providence and died there a few years later. Mr. Cross was a man of leisure and became interested in the local militia company, was made an honorary member, and in appreciation of the honor and upon suggestion of Col. Eugene B. Pendleton, donated the perpetual prize in 1882 for the best drilled member of the company, to be competed for annually. Several years ago the company had difficulty in securing the medal and it was finally located in a pawnshop. Since then the winner of the Cross medal has been given outright a suitably inscribed medal as a substitute.

the present session of the superior court, which opened Monday in West Kingston, will be held in Westery. In addition to the old cases of local interest, these new actions at law from Westery are on the docket: Hattie Eldridge vs. Stephen C. Peckham, Clement J. Gisson vs. Frank Larkin, William W. Hiscoc vs. P. H. Opte Co., Grace W. Savage vs. Emma F. Sully, Frank Brucker vs. Smith-Granite company, Eugene E. Philbrook vs. Lila R. Wilson, Washington Trust Co. vs. Westery Narrow Fabric Co., Frank A. Sherman, et al., vs. Westery Narrow Fabric company, Henry E. Bishop vs. Joseph T. Murphy, and Charles Goldberg vs. Solomon Solovitzik. The Westery lawyers in these cases are John W. Stevens, Harry E. Davis, Samuel H. Davis, Everett E. Kingsley and George R. McKenna.

The bids for the contract to construct the new town building and courthouse in Westery, fifteen in number, were opened Monday afternoon in the town clerk's office, in the presence of James M. Pendleton, Everett E. Whipple, C. Clarence Maxson, Martin H. Spellman and Thomas McKenna, the commission on the part of Westery, and Senator Louis W. Arnold of the state commission, the other members, Judge Willard B. Tanner and Abram Atwood of Providence, not being present. With Architect Walker, the commissioners went into secret session before the bids were opened, and in a few minutes Mr. Pendleton announced to the bidders, and others in waiting, that nothing relating to the bids would be made public at present, as the commission would take some time in the examination of the bids before any information relative thereto was given the bidders or the public.

Bids were received from the R. A. Sherman Sons Co., and the Isaac Sherman Co. of Westery; Peck, McWilliams & Co., Doyle & Murphy, the Fenton-Charney Building Co., of Norwich; Woodbury & Leighton Co., of Boston; E. K. Watson & Co., of Warren; J. C. Robinson & Son, of New York; William H. Hamlyn & Son, P. E. Hiram Williams & J. W. Bishop Co., Charles E. McGuire Co., Norcross Bros. Co., of Providence.

The bids cover contracts for an entire granite building, one of granite and brick, and for one all brick with granite trimmings. Colonel Greene, representing one of the bidding firms, said before the secret session of the commission was held, that the building could be constructed of granite in accordance with the plans and specifications and within the appropriation and with a balance left for extras.

While the building is to be owned jointly by the town and state, the state commission is not bound by the vote of town meeting, still, at the town meeting when the vote was adopted, Senator Arnold expressed willingness to have the state section of granite provided the appropriation of $50,000 made by the state, for building and furnishing, was not exceeded, as in securing the appropriation he gave positive assurance that there would be no request for additional appropriations.

Local Laconics.

The White Rock walking club is planning for a hike to Norwich on Thanksgiving day.

Rev. John M. Collins, one of Westery's pastorless clergymen, preached Sunday morning and evening in the Broad Street Christian church, and in the afternoon delivered an address of The Men and Religion Forward movement in the Niantic Baptist church at Bradford.

The parties having the contract to build the new town building and courthouse are required to raze the Babcock house and remove the material. It is probable a portion of the house will be used as an office and storehouse during the construction of the new building.

Contractor Ecclestone and his men moved the house from the location, has occupied for over seventy years at the corner of Broad and Union streets, as far as the corner of Elm street, Monday. The house will probably be on the new site in North court within two days. The electric light service was suspended in the section during a part of the day, as wires had to be taken down to permit the passage of the building.

If All Housekeepers Knew the Advantages of the

Crawford
Ranges

few others would be sold

In the saving of time, trouble and labor and in superior cooking ability, no other range can compare with them.

The Single Damper (patented) is the only perfect fire and oven control; one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," and the range does the rest.

The Two Hods in the base (patented) is a wonderful trouble-saving feature. One Hod for ashes, instead of the old, clumsy ash pan; the other Hod for coal.

The Oven with its cup-joint flues is heated all over alike; no "cold corners," no "scorching spots."

The Patented Grates save trouble and money.

Auxiliary Gas Ranges at the end or above the range, if desired.
